THE WOOL CROP.-We understand that The Wool. Caop.—We understand that there is a considerable portion of the wool crop of this county still in the hands of the firmers. A number of these will, we are told, hold their clips over for the new market unless they can receive more than the current price—forty-five cents. During the past week there has been some briskness in the demand, and we have briskness in the demand, and we have heard of a considerable number of sales. Or Friday last a good deal of wool was brought into town, mostly purchased by Maj. Morgan. We believe the price has not materially increased.

The legal tender decision does not meet wit universal sanction in commercial circles. Litt objection is raised, against equity or constitutionality of the argument and conclusion of the chief Justice, but the decision bears somewhat and in quarters where obligations will now i required to be paid in specie instead of current as for the last eight, years, and there is consequently a decirc to evade by some means the results of the decision. This feeling is likely it find expression in the introduction of a bill congress, which will adopt an opportunity for instituting the test case before a full court, it belonged the court may as then constituted re-
